To Whom It May Concern:

The Jewish Children's Museum of Brooklyn, New York has been the recipient of Blue Horizon Charitable Foundation's kindness over the years. Through hosting events, reaching out to new participants, and covering the cost of fundraisers, Blue Horizon Charitable Foundation has been a strong supporter of the Jewish Children's Museum.

We feel so appreciative to have this close relationship with the organization, and it has been over five years since we were first introduced to Blue Horizon Charitable Foundation.

The work that is done by Blue Horizon Charitable Foundation is really wonderful, and such an inspiration to all. It is with true care and concern for humanitarian causes that is the driving force behind its vital work to support organizations providing health and human services.

Thanks to their generosity and ongoing support, they have not only helped the children who benefit medically from their organization, but also thousands of other children who gain from the organizations which they support.

I look forward to many more years with a positive relationship between the Jewish Children's Museum and Blue Horizon Charitable Foundation.

Sincerely,

Chaim Benjaminson
Director
