

Awareness. Answers. Action.

Almost every hour of every day one man in the U.S. is diagnosed with testicular cancer

To Whom It May Concern:

We at the Sean Kimerling Testicular Cancer Foundation sincerely appreciate the generous support we have received from the Blue Horizon Charitable Foundation. The Blue Horizon Charitable Foundation has been involved with us for over five years. In that time they have hosted numerous affairs for us, have supported our events with sponsorships and donations in-kind, and have been one of our largest contributors. In 2012 we honored the foundation for their committed support of our cause. The Blue Horizon Charitable Foundation is a pleasure to work with, and is truly making a difference – both in their important work and with their generous support of the nonprofit community. We look forward to working closely with them for many years to come.

About the Foundation:

The Sean Kimerling Testicular Cancer Foundation (SKTCF) is dedicated to raising Awareness, providing Answers, and promoting Action in the fight against TC. The foundation was formed in 2003 in memory of Sean Kimerling, the Emmy Award winning PIX11 sportscaster and pre-game announcer for the NY Mets. Sean died at the age of 37 from TC. Headquartered in New York City, the Foundation has strong ties to local sports teams and media. A registered 501(c)(3) public charity, SKTCF is nationally recognized as a key resource in the fight against TC. For more information, please visit www.seankimerling.org.

About Testicular Cancer:

Almost every hour of every day one man in the U.S. is diagnosed with testicular cancer (TC). It is the most common cancer in men 15 – 35 years old, and incidence rates have been steadily increasing for decades. It is highly treatable—in fact, 99% curable—when found and treated at its earliest stages. In the case of TC, awareness truly is the cure

Sincerely,

Rob Eccles
Executive Director

If you hear “you have testicular cancer”, you want to hear “we caught it early”
